EF is the world leader in international education and student travel, with 45 years of experience and schools and offices in more than 50 countries! More students travel with EF than with any other company in the world. EF is also the Official Language Training Provider for both the Beijing 2008 Olympics and the upcoming 2014 World Cup in Brazil. EF is the largest educational tour operator in the world and guarantees the lowest prices for your tour. EF will make sure you have the safest trip possible. You will be accompanied 24-hours a day by a bilingual, professionally-trained EF Tour Director and local expert guides on sightseeing tours. All hotels and have been inspected for safety. Players sleep on their own beds, never on a floor or rollaway.

WHAT ABOUT LANGUAGE?

The official language of our tournaments is English. This does not mean everyone will be speaking English to you, but your coach, the officials, and the camp management will all speak English as well as have tournament information posted in English. If you are on an EF tour, you will be given a translator on all excursions.

WHAT DO I NEED TO BRING?

Your basketball shoes, swimming shorts (pools and beaches near the camps), your sunglasses to look cool as all the natives will come to see our guest Americans play, your digital camera, and some pocket money to send postcards of all the outstanding places you visit.

NBA GUESTS

It is probable you will be on a tour, which gets to meet and listen to an NBA guest player or coach. Look at the ABN website for the specific updated tournament information. Many times we do not know which player we will secure until Christmas.

INFO FOR INDIVIDUAL PLAYERS

If you sign up as an individual, you will be assigned a coach with minimum college and/or international experience. ABN hires only top coaches to instruct individuals going to our international tournaments. You are guaranteed placement or your deposit back in September. Your coach will chaperone your entire tour.

TEAM SIGNUPS

Their own coach will coach teams that sign up. However, it will be difficult to beat the prices EFTOURS can offer. Teams pay a site tournament fee as well as a per head fee for incidentals, tee shirt, and exchange buffer. These events are not cheap to put on with the dollar as weak as it is! Teams may choose coaching salary credit in lieu of coach's payment.

TOURNAMENT FORMATS

FIBA international rules utilized with large international 3-second area. Games are 2 x 20 or 4 x 10 stop clock with real officials. Local host organizations recruit international teams unless stated as camp teams.

ADDENDUM:

- Please note when you look at the brochures from EF TOURS you will see many prices.
- The price offered is the price quoted in the shaded box at the bottom of the page based on 35+ paying people.
- Please note at the top of the page it gives a departure city. You can estimate your departure price by measuring the difference in price between the NYC, CHICAGO, and SFO.
- ABN cannot guarantee any departure price for you if you are flying out of any other portal, but EF will do all they can to secure the best price for you. The size of your group flying out of that airport has no effect on the price. The real difference in price is the cost of all the luxury buses and sightseeing group prices.

HOW DOES REGISTRATION WORK?

- Compare prices and shop!
- Email your registration form (from this brochure).
- You will receive an email asking you to pay your deposit on Paypal.
- Your next payment will not be due until we confirm we have 35 people going on your trip and your trip price is valid, then you will each be asked to register at www.EFtours.com with the appropriate group number and password.
